ICC Extends Rail Freight Increases Indefinitely

Action Taken Despite Farm, Coal Opposition

Increases Granted
First on Temporary Basis in 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the nation's railroads to continue indefinitely a one-billion-dollar-a-year freight rate increase which it granted on a temporary basis in 1952.

The increase—ranging from 12 to 15 per cent on various types of freight—originally was scheduled to expire next Dec. 31.

The commission cancelled the expiration date and set no new time limit.

The coal industry and other shippers had fought extension of the rate increases. And the Agriculture Department asked the ICC to let the higher rates expire on schedule. It said the increases were one of the reasons farmers are having a hard time.

The ICC held hearings earlier this month on the railroads' plea to continue the increases indefinitely.

The 1952 increase boosted rates on coal, grains, grain products, sand, gravel, stone and iron ore by 12 per cent and raised freight rates on all other commodities by 15 per cent.

The railroads argued at the hearings that cancellation of the increases would drop their earnings to "a potential disaster level" and "seriously threaten the solvency" of many individual lines.

The Agriculture Department contended before the ICC that higher freight costs have contributed to the drop in farm income in two ways—by depressing prices which farmers receive for their products and by raising prices they have to pay for supplies.

The department's spokesman said that a "downward adjustment in agricultural freight rates at this time would help alleviate" the farm price situation which is seriously concerning government officials.

The National Coal Assn. argued that the railroads had jacked up their freight charges on coal in order to offset losses on passenger service. The coal industry, which has only recently been snapping out of a bad economic slump of its own, urged that the rates be allowed to revert to the old levels.

Eldorado to Establish Art Center To Make Pottery from Area Clay

ELDORADO, Ill.—A Community Art Center will be established here with a view toward training local residents in the production of marketable artistic creations, it was announced Monday night at a meeting of this town's "Operation Bootstrap" group.

Eugene F. Bunker, a consultant for Southern Illinois university's department of community development and a prize-winning ceramics artist, will lead technical assistance to the new venture. He will begin by conducting free classes in pottery, which will be made from southern Illinois clay.

Bunker told a town meeting of Eldorado's Community Development association that three of five samples of clay taken from sites in the Eldorado area were found to be of good quality for ceramics production. All of the good samples were found on coal mine property.

Perform Autopsy Following Death of Prisoner in Jail

An autopsy performed yesterday revealed that Winfield Merritt, 63, of Wayne county died of coronary thrombosis, Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons revealed today.

Merritt, who lived near Burnt Prairie, was found dead early yesterday in the Saline county jail, where he had been incarcerated Saturday night as a federal prisoner.

It was certain to authorities that death was due to natural causes but his children wanted and paid for an autopsy. Dr. R. J. Rossiter, pathologist at Carbondale, was called and performed the autopsy, which found that death was due to coronary thrombosis. Dr. Rossiter told Coroner Gibbons that scars on the heart proved that Merritt had suffered previous attacks.

Gibbons said that although Merritt had nine children, he lived alone at his farm home. He was arrested following a raid on his home Saturday evening by federal and Wayne county authorities.

Adopted Daughter Of Noel Field Is Freed by Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach, adopted daughter of Noel and Herta Field, has been freed from a Soviet labor camp and is in Moscow awaiting transportation to the West, it became known today.

Mrs. Wallach, the last member of the Field family to emerge from captivity by the Communists, was released several days ago. She appeared healthy and was reported anxious to return home.

She is trying to get Soviet travel papers to go to Berlin by train, where she hopes to get an American visa and join her husband, Robert, who is living in Virginia near Washington with their two children.

Economists Think Danger of Inflation Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some government economists believe the immediate danger of inflation is over. They expect the economy to level off now at a high plateau.

They said this is partly the payoff for administration efforts to keep the boom from getting out of hand. But, they added, two other recent developments also played a part in taking the edge off the boom.

The first of these was President Eisenhower's heart attack which apparently has prompted politically-conscious businessmen to take a "stop, look and listen" attitude toward further expansion at this time.

The second was last Friday's announcement by major banks in the nation's bigger cities that they are raising their prime interest rates from 3 1/4 to 3 1/2 per cent. The prime interest rate in effect is a bank's cheapest line of credit. It is available only to the biggest borrowers with top credit ratings. Other borrowers pay more for the use of money.

Government economists said both developments intensified previous federal actions to reduce the supply of money available for loans and put a brake on new housing construction.

September housing "starts" declined to the lowest level of the year after the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration increased down payment requirements and shortened maximum loan periods.

Consumer credit figures won't be available until the end of October and there will be no official indication until then of the effect of the tighter loan policies on business boom.

But a top administration official disclosed recently that confidential figures led him to believe "there is no cause for alarm" in the large amount of consumer credit outstanding.

He conceded total installment credit should be smaller but added that the picture is "in the process of improving."

Permission was granted to use this room because no store buildings were available and because the Humane Society shelter is used as the city's dog pound.

Capt. Townsend Again Visits With Princess

May Be Day of Decision on Possible Marriage

LONDON (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend met Princess Margaret for the sixth straight day today.

This time he didn't use the back door, but drove in boldly through the front gate of Clarence House, Margaret's official residence.

Queen Mother Elizabeth left Clarence House five minutes after Townsend arrived, leaving Margaret again with the handsome divorced war hero.

For the first time since Townsend came home from Belgium to pay court to the pretty princess, the thick wooden gates in front of Clarence House swung open for him.

On his first call, last Thursday, he slipped through the servants' door. Today he drove right up to the front steps and went in the main entrance.

The move may have been symbolic, for this was a possible day of decision in the romance of the 25-year-old princess and the 41-year-old pilot.

Queen Elizabeth II came home grave-faced from Scotland. Her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, returned from Denmark. The Queen Mother already was in town. Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden held a cabinet meeting which presumably discussed the reported romance.

Taken together, these events meant that the royal family, the government and the Church of England probably were making their preliminary moves prior to a possible marriage between Margaret and Townsend.

There were mounting demands from press and public that Parliament wipe out the one-year waiting period now required for a royal marriage. And there were demands she be relieved of pressure to renounce her right of succession to the throne.

Against this widespread popular feeling was the mounting opposition of the Church of England which bars remarriage of divorcees while the first partner is living. The Queen, as the defender of the faith, can sanction no such marriage.

Apple Crop Second Smallest on Record

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois' 1955 apple crop was the second smallest on record, and the peach crop totaled only 7 per cent of last year's production, the state-federal Crop Reporting Service said today.

Both crops were hard hit by late spring frosts.

The apple crop totaled only 1 1/2 million bushels, 34 per cent below 1954 production and 51 per cent below the 10-year average.

The total peach crop was estimated at 90,000 bushels, about 5 per cent of the 10-year average. The crop service said records going back to 1899 show only four years with lower yields, 1899, 1912, 1918, and 1930.

Seven Persons At Christening Party Injured

Flaming Deaths
For Wealthy Pilot,
Infant and Girl, 18

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A small plane piloted by millionaire sportsman Joel Wolfe Thorne crashed into an apartment house Monday night, bringing flaming death to three persons and injuring seven others.

The dead were identified as Thorne, Mrs. Betty Jean Wolf, 18, and Sherrill Presten, 6-week-old girl. Mrs. Wolf was a second floor resident in the apartment building.

Seven persons attending a christening party for the Presten child were removed from the shattered building and taken to hospitals in critical condition.

Hospital attendants said the victims were badly burned.

Thorne, 40, scion of a New York banking family, was a well-known racing car and plane enthusiast.

Smashes Into Building
The plane, a Beechcraft Bonanza, crashed into the front second floor apartment of the two-story building shortly after it took off from nearby Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank. The pilot of the plane, en route to Las Vegas, Nev., was one of the victims.

CAA spokesmen at Lockheed said the plane took off for Las Vegas at 2:10 a. m. EDT. Minutes later residents in the crash scene neighborhood reported hearing a low-flying plane, "apparently in trouble."

Suddenly the plane's engine quit. It swooped low, brushing some trees. The plane's rudder dropped on an apartment house roof a few houses down the street from the crash. The plane bounced off high tension wires. Then the aircraft smashed into the two-story apartment building which has eight units.

Mrs. Anne Presinzano, 41, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mike Presten whose six-week-old daughter Sherrill had been christened Monday. Also in the Presten apartment were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marchica and their two children, Patricia, 10, and John, 7.

The baby was killed.

Room "Exploded"

"We heard the plane, some noise and then the room exploded," Mrs. Presinzano said at Valley Hospital where she was treated for injuries.

Elliott Phillips, one of the first at the crash scene, said the first victim he reached was "a little boy about nine. He was wandering around."

"All of his clothes were burned off," Phillips said. "He was black and still burning. I tore off my shirt to beat out the flames."

In critical condition were Presten, 31, and his wife, Shirley, 25; Mrs. Presinzano; Marcia, 38, and his wife, Laura, 38; their children, Patricia, 9, and John, 6, and Bill Bates, 31.

The crash scene was in a fairly new residential neighborhood, typical of the sprawling San Fernando Valley. It was about five miles west of the airport and only six miles from the heart of Hollywood.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Some religions solve the problem of poverty and ignorance by making such unobtainable. The Christian way is to seek and to save them, to change them for the better.

Golf Cleared of Guilt

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

It was ironic that President Eisenhower was stricken at a time when he was pursuing a relaxed vacation schedule designed to keep him out of trouble with his health.

It was ironic, too, that this should have happened but a few days before he was to preside over a meeting on the general physical fitness of the American people—to be attended by leading specialists and athletes.

Undoubtedly some Americans may have wondered whether the President may not have played too hard in trying to escape the burdens and tensions of office. They might be asking: "If there was a chance something like this could happen, why was he allowed to play all that golf?"

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist who flew to Ike's bedside after his attack, spoke of this matter in his highly informative report on the case. What he said is not only helpful to an understanding of the President's ailment but could be a useful guide to countless Americans in their middle and later years who might have doubts about the place of exercise in their lives.

Said Dr. White: "Now I know there is a likelihood of some people thinking that the golf he (Mr. Eisenhower) played the day before his illness might have been instrumental in production of this attack."

"But I have a feeling, I believe (this has had) no influence... We see attacks in people who never played any golf. My own feeling is that golf has often been wrongly blamed, that those who play golf and have attacks at the age of 65 might have had an attack at 45 if they hadn't played golf."

Well, that is the present situation. We just don't know, but we think that exercise itself is responsible. In fact, I am of the impression that it really helped to delay the onset of this (rather) than to cause it."

What the doctor said is that consistent exercise may have added greatly to the President's useful days by warding off potential trouble. It may even have saved his life, since no one can say how much more severe his heart attack might have been had he not tried to keep his body as mobile, supple and relaxed as possible.

The best way to get steady exercise, of course, is to take active part in sports. The President obviously is a great believer in this for himself, and for all Americans.

People in this country have for too many years tended to satisfy themselves by watching others engage in sports—professionals and highly skilled amateurs. If anything, TV has made the matter worse. Now millions don't even get the exercise of walking to the baseball park or the football field.

The President's experience contains a lesson. And Dr. White's words on the subject of exercise are advice that all our maturing folk should ponder.

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Republicans Strip Decks For Hot-Of Election Campaigns; French Sore At U. S. A. Over Algerian UN Vote; Howard Hughes Makes Biting Physically Handicapped Pay Off.

WASHINGTON. — In view of Ike's illness Republicans are preparing for the hottest political year in U. S. history.

As the first step they have lined up a team of efficiency experts, a library of canned speeches, and a 24-hour photographic service.

The experts are already touring so-called "marginal districts" where Republicans either won or lost in 1954 by less than 5 per cent of the vote. They hold "strategy meetings" to teach local leaders how to improve their precinct organization and streamline the vote-getting machinery.

Meanwhile, the Republican National committee has mass-produced canned speeches, films and TV-radio scripts for local candidates. Three photographers are on call, ready to develop pictures within 24 hours; and a weekly fund has been set up in the House-Senate radio facility to help GOP legislators pay for recording political broadcasts.

The efficiency experts now outstreamlining the local precinct machinery are: Gilb Rodi, Mountain and Pacific states; John R. Brown, Jr., East Coast; and James I. McKillips, Southern states. Jack Mills was covering the Midwest, but is temporarily on leave to the Taft Memorial Fund.

Rodi has already hit the "marginal districts" in Nevada, Utah, Idaho and Montana. He's heading next for Washington or Oregon. Brown has visited Connecticut and Maine, next plans to visit New Hampshire. McKillips is just getting started, and Mills, before joining the Taft fund, had covered key districts in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

Chief purpose of this elaborate advance preparation is to elect a Republican Congress in 1956. Other experts will concentrate on the presidential campaign later.

MOLOTOV CRACKS BACK. One reason the French are irked at the U. S. A. over the United Nations vote against them on Algeria was illustrated during a dinner given by French UN Delegate Herve Alphand in New York right after the vote was taken.

All the top foreign ministers were present—Molotov of Russia, Pinay of France, McMillan of Britain. The dinner went along smoothly despite the 28-to-27 vote against France a few hours before. The diplomats are the height of courtesy and no one mentioned the defeat which was to send the French delegation hiking back to Paris next day.

After dinner, however, Foreign Minister Pinay pulled Molotov into a corner and proceeded to bawl him out for voting against France. Pinay and Premier Faure were scheduled to make a good-will trip to Moscow, yet on the eve of their visit a supposedly friendly Russia had done this to them at the UN. "It's against the spirit of Geneva," exploded the French foreign minister.

Molotov listened dourly, saying nothing. He didn't have a chance. Finally, as Pinay con-

Indianapolis to Remain On 'Fast' Time

INDIANAPOLIS UP — The city of Indianapolis will stay on "fast" time when many Hoosier communities revert to "slow" time Oct. 30.

The City Council Monday night ignored a request by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and leaders from numerous cities and towns in the area to switch back to Central Standard Time.

The General Sherman, big tree in Sequoia National Park, Calif., is 115 feet in circumference and 273 feet in height.

cluded, the Russian got in this sly crack: "Your American friends didn't do so well by you." What Molotov meant was, that though Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had voted with France, he had not done as he usually does on an important vote, hustle up a lot of Latin-American votes for his side. He could have tipped the balance for France, and the French knew it. That was why Molotov's crack sank home.

BLIND GUIDE MISSILES

The most remarkable job of hiring the physically handicapped in the entire U. S. A. probably has been done by Howard Hughes in his Hughes aircraft plants at Culver City, Calif., and Tucson, Ariz. About 17 per cent of those he employs are physically handicapped, including 150 amputees, 38 deaf mutes, four totally blind and 25 suffering from industrial blindness, in addition to other workers suffering from hidden disabilities such as diabetes, cardiac troubles, arrested TB, epilepsy and muscular dystrophy.

CAPITOL CLIPS

With Washington haircuts just hiked to $1.50 a head, the barbers on Capitol Hill are doing a rushing week-end business. However, it isn't congressmen the Capitol Hill barbers are clipping—it's their children. Not only congressmen but their staff members are carting their little shavers into town on Saturday morning, pay only 50 cents in the House of Representatives barbershops and $1 in the Senate. If a family has two or three boys who need haircuts twice a month, this can mean quite a saving. Barbers on the Senate side of the Capitol are delighted because they work on commission. But on the House side, the barbers are tearing their hair. They work for a straight salary, consider the small fry a pain in the neck. Incidentally, there's one barbershop in the Senate that clips senatorial pates only. No staff members, no children can enter. Its rates are a secret and were refused this column, but are reported to be free. There are six barbershops on Capitol Hill, employing about 16 barbers which guarantees that lawmakers won't have to shell out the $1.50 charged in commercial shops. The low rates are possible in the Capitol's tonorial emporia because Uncle Sam supplies the shop, light, heat, and water.

W. A. Green of the Stricklin Paint and Wall Paper store has just returned from Terre Haute, Ind., the headquarters of the Smith-Alsop Paint & Varnish company where he attended a two day convention.

Mr. Green had the privilege of listening to many interesting discussions by the executive personnel of the Smith-Alsop Paint & Varnish company as well as some nationally known speakers who were authorities on such subjects as sales, merchandising, advertising and public relations.

Mr. Green had an opportunity to contact representatives from nine midwestern states who were present at the meeting and they as well as the executives of the company expressed a very optimistic feeling for the business possibilities of 1956.

The session closed with a banquet Wednesday evening with approximately 250 people in attendance.

Ad Discloses Wholesome Menu At HTHS Cafeteria

Attention of parents of high school students is called to the high school cafeteria menu for the remainder of this week, which appears in today's Register. The aim of the ad is to let parents know what wholesome meals may be had at school for only 30c, with an extra glass of milk for only one cent more.

Elvis Henson, HTHS principal, said that the high school cafeteria is to be improved with addition of new equipment. Mrs. Lydia Grounds, who is in charge, plans menus which have a variety and are changed from week to week to include seasonal and tasty main dishes.

No aid is being received from the state this year for the operation of the cafeteria and it is necessary to increase student patronage to keep it in operation.

Republican Critic Says Farm Prices Will Keep Sliding

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican congressional critic of the administration's farm program said today that farm income will "keep sliding until the soup lines appear" if Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson's policies are followed.

The congressman, Rep. Usher L.

A/2C DONALD L. WILLIAMS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams of Harrisburg RFD 1 is now stationed at U. S. A. F. hospital in New Mexico. His address is A/2C Donald L. Williams, A. F. 17383882, 6580th U. S. A. F. Hsp., Holloman A. F. B., New Mexico.

Capt. Robert E. Downen, Harrisburg, is attending the Junior school at the Marine Corps school at Quantico, Va. Graduation is scheduled for June 2, 1956. The school provides professional education for Marine Corps officers in the ranks of major and captain in command and staff duties.

Jerry G. Gibson, yeoman 2-c, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Gibson, Harrisburg, and husband of Mrs. Verna L. Gibson of East Peoria, is successfully completing the course of instruction through the Armed Forces institute in the slide rule at Madison, Wis. He is serving aboard the submarine tender USS Orion with the Atlantic Fleet.

Burdick (R-ND), said in a statement that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other Republican leaders are "doing their best to convince Benson that he is wrong."

But he said Benson is standing pat on his policies, including the flexible or sliding-scale price support program.

Why settle for less when Mountain-Grown Folger's gives you MORE FLAVOR PER CUP

Folger's skillful blending and roasting of nature's most flavorful coffees makes the difference!

Folger's, you see, starts with only the choicest coffees . . . Mountain-Grown coffees that are naturally richer, heartier, more flavorful.

They blend and prepare these finer coffees in an unique way, with their century-old Folger "touch" that produces not only a richer flavor, but a truly distinctive flavor no other coffee can match. And because Folger's blends to a flavor, not to a formula, you can be sure of the same rewarding goodness cup after cup, day after day.

Why not serve your family the one coffee that over the years has been specially made to give you more flavor, more coffee satisfaction in every cup. Serve them Mountain-Grown Folger's. We think that once you've tried Folger's, you'll never be satisfied with anything less.

SO MUCH RICHER IN FLAVOR YOU ARE URGED TO USE 1/4 LESS THAN WITH LESSER FLAVORED BRANDS

New Mexican Storm Spreads Floods, Death

By United Press
Eastern flood waters fell back and Hurricane Katie whirled to her death in the Atlantic Ocean today. But a new storm spread floods, death, and disaster along Mexico's west coast.

At least 40 persons were reported killed and scattered reports from the battered Mexican coastline indicated dozens of towns and villages were swept away.

The Mexican storm roared out of the Pacific after 10 days of steady downpours. Rivers turned into rampaging torrents and it was reported that eight large towns, including Manzanillo and Colima, were under water.

Lacnic messages from the town of Ateneque indicated 40 persons had drowned when floods "buried the city."

The storm was a disastrous sequel to the series of hurricanes which battered Mexico's eastern coast, causing hundreds of deaths.

In this country, seven northeastern states counted 50 persons dead, an estimated 500 million dollars damage, and more than 25,000 persons homeless in the wake of another flood attack.

Skies cleared or were clearing over the area today after five days of floods and rain. Meanwhile, Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson took personal charge of a rehabilitation program and said the government would spend $11,600,000 to clear debris, open roads, and provide relief.

The four escapees, who apparently have eluded an intensive police search in a dump and slum area along the Illinois river near here, filed or saved their way from a security building at the honor farm early Monday.

The Tennessee Democrat issued a mimeographed statement Monday saying he wants to consult "a number of Democratic leaders in various parts of the country."

Kefauver said he would decide and announce his decision within a "reasonable" time. But he indicated that he is in no hurry.

He told newsmen his decision will not be materially influenced by similar decisions to be made by President Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson was in New York today for a conference with Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), a supporter of Stevenson and a possible holdout for the New York delegation goes to the Democratic convention pledged to Gov. Averell Harriman.

A spokesman for Lehman said the senator may have something to say about the Democratic presidential nomination in a week or so.

Kefauver did make clear that he is not considering the vice presidency and that he will run for the top job or not at all.

Presidential politics occupy Southern Governors' Meeting

POINT CLEAR, Ala. (U.P.)—Sharply differing roads for the South in the 1956 presidential race were offered today at the 21st annual Southern Governors' Conference.

Republican Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland said the GOP with or without President Eisenhower can again lure the Southern vote.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina, enraged over a "trend by both parties" away from constitutional government, predicted a third party movement.

Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, the nation's youngest chief executive at 35, vowed a Solid South return to the Democratic fold.

Presidential politics appeared to be uppermost on the minds of most of the 16 governors who arrived Monday night for the conference.

Ten counties in the United States each produced more than 10,000,000 tons of coal in 1953.

Robinson Man Arrested For Attack on Woman

ROBINSON, Ill. (UP)—A Robinson man was held in jail today after waiving preliminary hearing on a morals offense.

Thomas Littlejohn, 21, was arrested Monday for a criminal attack on a 30-year-old Crawford county farm woman. Sheriff C. T. West said the woman identified Littlejohn as her attacker.

Littlejohn was held in jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond to await action of a grand jury. He was arrested along a highway near Robinson about an hour after the woman was attacked.

Find Bodies of Three Boys in Forest Preserve

CHICAGO (UP)—The bodies of three boys were found today in a forest preserve on the outskirts of the city.

The bodies were found by a liquor salesman who rushed into a tavern to report his discovery to police.

There was no immediate identification, but three boys were reported missing Sunday from their homes in a Northwest Side community near the forest preserve.

The three were Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11.

The boys had told their parents they were going to see a downtown movie.

Boy, 7, Kills His Brother, 6, in Quarrel Over Dialling TV Set

LAPEER, Mich. (UP)—Sheriff's deputies said today a 7-year-old boy shot and killed his 6-year-old brother when the victim ignored his order to quit playing with the dial of the family television set.

Deputy William J. Porter said Stanley Mack, 7, and his brother, Lawrence, were watching television in their home at nearby Lum Monday. Porter said the mother, Mrs. Florence Harp, was out on an errand and the stepfather, Robert, was away working.

Porter said Stanley became annoyed when Lawrence began twisting the dial and switching channels. He said when Lawrence paid no attention to his brother, Stanley picked up a .22-caliber rifle and fired. The bullet killed Lawrence almost instantly.

Fined

Jesse Douglas of Chicago, arrested yesterday evening by City Policeman Pat Atkinson and State Policeman Carl Pendell, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated when arraigned before Police Magistrate Vern Joyner Jr. this morning and was fined a total of $111.40.

Geneva Talks Hold Promise Of Peace: Nixon

NEW YORK (UP)—Vice President Richard Nixon said Monday night that the coming Geneva Big Four ministers conference holds more promise for resolving East-West differences than any conference since World War II.

Nixon spoke at the New York Herald Tribune Forum. His speech was non-partisan and even included a quotation from Democratic President Woodrow Wilson.

Nixon said the "chances for peace today are better than at any time since World War II." He cited the "Spirit of Geneva" as setting up the peaceful atmosphere but warned that the Geneva spirit "does not mean peace at any price."

The vice president said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will go to Geneva "on the lookout for the real policies of the Kremlin—not merely professions of good will."

"The United States is willing to accept any proposal leading towards peace," Nixon said, "except one that would mean surrender of our own freedom or the freedom of others."

He said the American position is the same as stated in 1912 by Woodrow Wilson who said: "A patriotic American is never so proud of the great flag under which he lives as when it comes to mean to other people as well as to himself a symbol of hope and liberty."

Boy, 19, Admits Killing Mother

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—A 19-year-old boy confessed he beat his mother to death with a hammer "because my parents don't understand me" and then tried to kill himself by leaping in front of two cars and a truck, police said today.

The youth, John Hawley, was reported in serious condition at San Bernardino County Hospital about 60 miles from here. Pasadena Detective Richard L. Jamison said Hawley confessed murdering his mother.

Mrs. Iris Hawley, 45, wife of a wealthy advertising executive, William A. Hawley, was found dead Monday by a maid in the family's fashionable home in the Oak Knoll district here.

Dulles to Discuss Middle East with Molotov

West barriers. He emphasized that he does not expect German unification either to be accomplished or assured at the foreign ministers meeting starting Oct. 27. But he said he expects the Western nations and Russia to be brought closer together on the German issue.

4. Said there were certain aspects of the recent visit of Soviet farm experts to the United States that were undesirable such as the emotionalism attached to the visit. He did not elaborate on this point. But Dulles said that, on the whole, he believes such exchanges between the East and West are probably desirable.

5. Announced he will leave Friday afternoon for Rome for a talk with Italian leaders on common problems. From there he will go on to Paris and Geneva for the foreign ministers meeting.

May Lift Martial Law at Strike Site

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (UP)—Tension eased in strife-torn New Castle today and Gov. George N. Craig said martial law might be lifted if the "highest" union authority guarantees an end to violence.

Craig kept full martial law and 400 National Guardsmen at New Castle, where nine persons were injured in a gun battle at the strike-bound Perfect Circle Corp. foundry Oct. 5.

But he lifted martial law and removed 125 troopers at nearby Richmond, site of two other Perfect Circle plants. At Hagerstown, where a fourth Perfect Circle plant is located, the guard force was cut from 275 to 200.

Find Body of Missing Woman Floating in Lake

DECATUR, Ill. (UP)—The body of a 33-year-old woman, missing since her escort left her near a bridge on Lake Decatur early Sunday, was found floating in the lake today.

Two lake patrolmen found the body of Jeanette Gass, 33, while firemen were dragging for the body a short distance away.

Miss Gass was reported missing Sunday by her mother, Mrs. Olive Overman, when she failed to return from a date with Joseph Endrizza.

Endrizza told police he took Miss Gass home about 2 a. m. Sunday, but that when they arrived she said she didn't want to go in the house.

They drove around a while, Endrizza said, then Miss Gass asked him to let her out of the car near the bridge, not far from her home. Endrizza said he then drove to his home.

Seeks Damages in Circuit Court Complaint

C. M. Gibbons, through his attorneys, John W. Biggers and George B. Lee, has filed a complaint in circuit court seeking damages from Cecilia Shetter as a result of an auto collision.

Cars driven by Mr. Gibbons and Mrs. Shetter collided May 13 at South McKinley and West Lillie streets when the plaintiff was going south on McKinley and the defendant east on Lillie, the complaint says.

Gibbons asks $10,000 damages for injuries and $70.50 for auto damage.

Group Rejects Testimony by Power Firm

WASHINGTON (UP)—A House government operations subcommittee today rejected the Georgia Power Company's request to testify at hearings on the administration's power policies.

The vote was 3-2 with the Democrats all lining up against taking the testimony and the Republicans voting to hear it. The action was taken as the group resumed its power hearings.

Democratic members of the subcommittee have charged the administration with trying to sell federal power from the huge Clark Hill Dam on the Savannah river to the Georgia Power Co. despite a law which says electric cooperatives should get first call on the power.

Harlee Branch, president of Georgia Power, asked to appear before the subcommittee to give his side of the story. In turning down the request, the Democrats indicated they were opposed to going into the utility's role at present.

In Atlanta, Branch issued a statement blasting the subcommittee's decision. He said he was "shocked" at the group's decision "to deny me and my company the opportunity to testify regarding the false charges and insinuations made against us."

Branch said he believed "fair-minded Americans" would "condemn this high-handed and un-American treatment of my company."

Canadian Mill Boosts Price Of Newsprint

NEW YORK (U-P)—St. Lawrence Mills of Canada, which supplies newsprint to 300 newspapers in 35 states in this country, announced today it is increasing the price of its product $5 a ton, effective Nov. 1.

The increase will raise the price of newsprint in New York from $126 to $131 a ton. Delivered prices across the country vary a few dollars from those in New York.

The first hint of a newsprint price increase came Oct. 5 when Sir Eric Bowater, chairman of Bowater Paper Corp. Ltd., said that the industry needs additional revenue to meet rising labor costs and expansion programs.

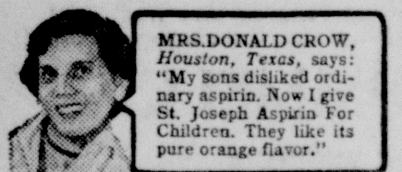

The announcement from St. Lawrence Mills, made by the Wright Co., the mill's sales agents here, was the first from the industry.

There was no immediate announcement from other manufacturers but in the past three years have followed with similar price increases.

The American Newspaper Publishers Assn., through its president, Richard W. Slocum, said at the time Bowater issued his statement that any price increase was "neither justified nor wise."

Although there had been no increase in newsprint prices in more than three years the ANPA pointed out that prior to that there had been eight price increases within six years.

U. S. Senators Donate to Egypt Funds for Arms

CAIRO, Egypt (U-P)—Four touring United States senators Monday gave token cash donations to Egypt's collection to buy arms from Czechoslovakia.

The senators — Harley Kilgore

(D-W Va), John McClellan (D-Ark), Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) and John Stennis (D-Miss)—had just ended a visit with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. They were approached by Sheikh Ahmed Salem, a dwarf who stands only three feet, six inches. He is in charge of arms fund collections.

The wrinkle-faced little man, wearing a turban, rushed forward and thrust his cash box toward the Americans, saying in English,

"Money for the army."

The senators were taken aback and an official quickly explained. They broke into smiles, reached into their pockets and dropped coins into the box, which brought applause from bystanders.

Witnesses were unable to estimate the amount donated by the senators. They said the coins were mostly five piasters (15 cents). Egypt is currently observing Egyptian Armament Week to collect funds for the purchase of arms.

There are more than 275,000 blind Americans.

Bucky Walters Is Named Pitching Coach of Giants In Switch from Braves

By United Press
Bucky Walters, who switched from third base to the pitching mound with tremendous success, switched again today from the Milwaukee Braves to the New York Giants.

The 46-year-old Walters was hired as pitching coach of the Giants at the personal request of new Manager Bill Rigney.

Walters, a coach with the Braves since 1950, was acquired by the Giants after owner Horace Stoneham obtained permission from Milwaukee to negotiate with the former Cincinnati hurler.

Walters, who broke into the majors as a third baseman with the Braves in 1931, then was converted into a pitcher while with the Phillies in 1934, reached his greatest success as a hurler with the Reds. He won a total of 198 games and was named manager of Cincinnati in August, 1948. He was fired after the Reds wound up seventh in 1949.

Advisor on Pitchers
Walters will serve as Rigney's advisor on pitchers, taking over a job that Frank Shellenback had under Leo Durocher last year. He is the first Giant coach appointed under Rigney's new regime. Second baseman Dave Williams was signed as a Giant coach for 1956.

during the past season when it was learned he may not be able to play again. One more Giant coach will be selected.

The Braves announced that Charley Root will replace Walters as their pitching coach. They also announced that Coach Johnny Cooney has been given his release.

Elsewhere in the majors, the Baltimore Orioles traded outfielder Cal Abrams to the Chicago White Sox for utility infielder Bobby Adams.

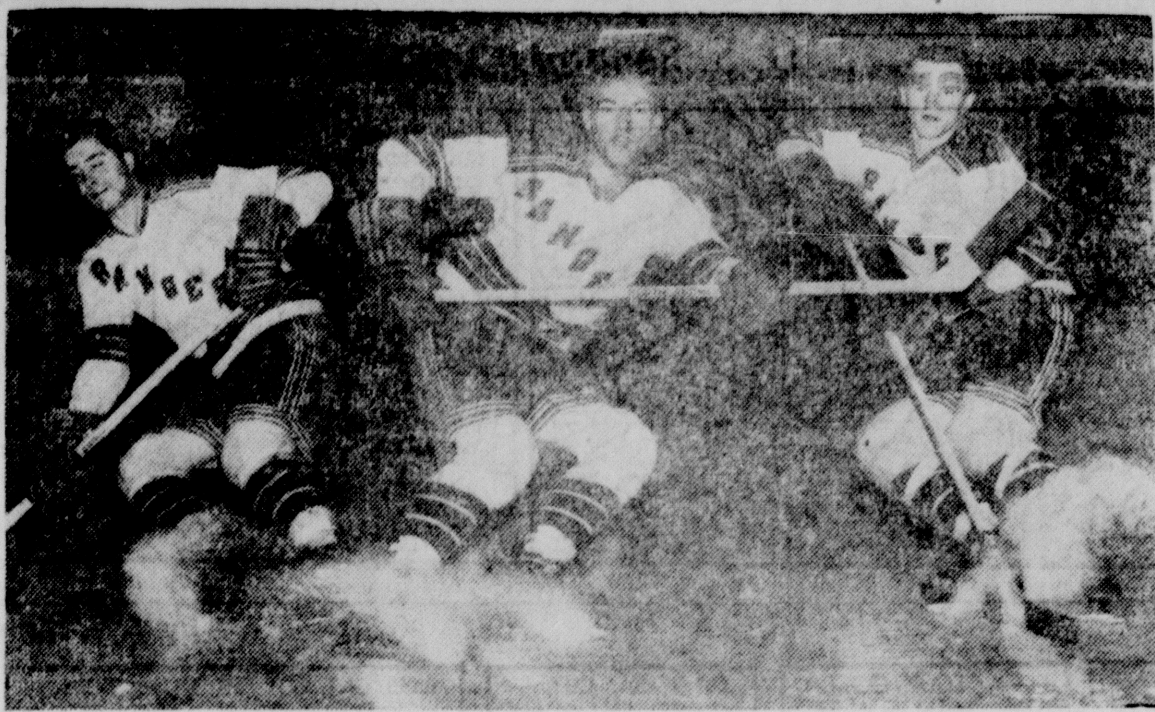

No Cash Involved
Jack Dunn, assistant general manager of the Orioles, said it was a straight player deal with no cash involved.

Vie Raschi, 36-year-old right-hander who helped pitch the Yankees to five pennants, was given his unconditional release by the Kansas City Athletics. Raschi appeared in 20 games for the Athletics last season, winning four and losing six.

The Cardinals re-acquired pitcher Stu Miller and sent three other pitchers to the minors. Miller was replaced at Omaha by Allen Gettel, while the Cards assigned John Mackinson and Jack Fascholz to Rochester.

Pittsburgh also re-acquired outfielder Bobby Del Greco from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league in exchange for outfielder Felipe Montemayor and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Brooklyn purchased Bob Walz, a 23-year-old right-handed relief pitcher from Montreal of the International league.

Galatia Cross Country Team Victor in Meet With West Frankfort

The Galatia high school cross country team scored an overwhelming victory over West Frankfort last Friday, 17-42.

The winners, paced by Ken Cockrum, almost scored a clean sweep in the meet. Galatia runners placed first, second, third, fifth, sixth and seventh. Each team scores on the order of its first five finishers.

Galatia Coach Glen Dunn stated today the district cross country meet would be held at Herrin Saturday morning, Oct. 29. The state meet will follow by a week or so, with district winners eligible for state-wide competition.

Herrin Tigers Expected to Be 'Up' for Bull Dog Game Friday

The defeat which knocked Herrin out of the unbeaten ranks last week is expected to make the Tigers a bitter, fighting team when they take the field against the Harrisburg Bull Dogs Friday night.

And to add fuel to the fire, the tilt at Herrin will be the school's homecoming, which always gets a team "up" for a contest.

Herrin, unbeaten, and considered by many the class of southern Illinois, made a trip to Benton last Friday evening and was beaten, 20 to 12, before a crowd estimated at 3,000 in a South Seven contest.

A tough Benton line held Herrin to a net 83 yards rushing, but the Tigers completed nine out of 14 passes for 136 yards. Probably the big reason that the rushing was held to such a low figure was because Herrin's fine fullback, Charles Hamilton, was out of the game entirely except to try for extra points on two occasions. Hamilton has a bruised hip.

But the glory all went to the Rangers and Coach Ralph Davison was carried off the field by his happy players, so great was the joy in Benton. A loss by Harrisburg this week would throw the South Seven grid race into a three-way struggle among the Bull Dogs, Herrin and Benton.

Statistics on the game showed each team made 13 first downs, and Herrin outgained Benton from scrimmage, 244 yards to 194. But Benton went ahead 13-12 in the last quarter, then clinched a game when Dorchiney intercepted a McPherson pass on the B-45 and ran 55 yards to score.

Harrisburg remained undefeated when the Bull Dogs won at Centralia, 21-7, in an important victory for the locals Friday night. The locals are 3-0 in the conference and 5-0 in all games played.

Catch Lawrence Calcutti's big problem this week is to find a couple of halfbacks, as both Jack Wright and Freddie McKenzie are suffering injuries that probably will keep them out of practice all week and could possibly keep them out of the Herrin game. Wright carried on only two plays at Centralia, so bad was his knee injury, and McKenzie had to be carried off the field with an injured ankle.

In 1951 game was the most one-sided of the series, Harrisburg winning 51-0. The Bull Dogs scored two TDs in each of the four quarters. Co-Captain Dick Griffith paced the scoring with three TDs. Hinant had two and Shewmake, Dalton and Guard each scored once.

In 1952 Herrin won 13-6. In 1953 game was another Herrin victory, 19-13.

In 1954 both teams put on a scoring show, each scoring 26 points. Tony Beal scored three Bull Dog TDs and passed to Trammel for the fourth six-pointer.

Millard Davis, Former Cave-in-Rock Cage Star, New Coach at Rosiclare

Millard Davis, area high school basketball star of only a few years back, joins the southern Illinois high school coaching ranks this year as mentor at the Rosiclare high school.

Davis, a native of Cave-in-Rock, graduated from Memphis State college last spring.

Rosiclare's basketball team during the 1954-55 campaign was heavily dotted with underclassmen and struggled through a losing season. However the team was showing improvement near the end of the schedule and this year may be a successful one for the Rosiclare Bears.

Coach Davis lists nine lettermen among the candidates for the 1955-56 team. They are D. Seay, a sophomore; R. M. S. E. Conger, Smith, C. Seay, Nelson and Hobbs, all juniors, and Tadlock and McGuire, seniors.

Davis was center on the great Cave-in-Rock team of 1950-51, which became one of the most discussed teams of the year. The team played a fire-wagon offense and pressing defense that kept other squads off balance from start to finish.

Cave-in-Rock bowed out in the sectional tournament to a tall, rugged West Frankfort outfit. Davis, at 6-1, was the tallest player on the Rockers.

Following graduation from high school Davis enrolled at a Junior college at Goodman, Miss., and made the college basketball team, which copied the state championship in 1951-52 and was runnerup the following year. Davis then transferred to Memphis State college.

He played with the Memphis State team in the NCAA tourney last spring. The team, rated 15th nationally, also was invited to play in the N. I. T. Playing with this nationally ranked team was Davis' "peak in basketball," he stated recently.

During his college career Davis lettered four years in both basketball and baseball. He will coach baseball at Rosiclare in addition to basketball.

Rosiclare, a member of the Greater Egyptian conference, opens its league schedule Nov. 15 at Vienna. However the season will get underway early in November, with the opener at Carrier Mills on Nov. 4.

Michigan Holds Top Rating Over Maryland

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Michigan, Maryland and Oklahoma, which weathered the wave of weekend upsets, clung to the top three United Press college football ratings today, but a shakeup of the remaining places in the top 10 vaulted Navy into the No. 4 spot.

Michigan State, Auburn and Southern California all advanced to the select group as the ratings underwent their biggest scrambling of the season thus far. Notre Dame, one of the four major powers upset, dropped six places to 10th.

The 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press rating board divided all their first-place votes among the four top teams. Michigan received 15—two less than last week; Maryland had eight, Oklahoma six and Navy three.

Point Distribution Close
However, the point distribution for the three top teams was comparatively close. Michigan attracting 315 points, Maryland 289 and the Sooners 285.

Southern California, which defeated Wisconsin 33-21 Friday night, jumped 10 notches to ninth place, regaining a place in the select group after dropping out for one week. Auburn, which bounced Georgia Tech, vaulted nine places to the No. 8 ranking, while Michigan State, conqueror of Notre Dame, moved up five places to No. 6.

Navy advanced from ninth to fourth place; UCLA moved up two places to fifth, and Duke three rankings to seventh.

Here is how the teams lined up behind the first three: Navy, 218 points; UCLA, 170; Michigan State, 160; Duke, 139; Auburn, 71; Southern California, 68, and Notre Dame, 50.

Face Tough Going
Each of this week's "Big Three" may be in for some tough going next Saturday. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's top-ranked Wolverine face Minnesota, a traditional Big Ten rival; Maryland plays Syracuse, a winner over Army last week; while Oklahoma meets 17th-ranked Colorado, regarded its biggest threat for Big Seven supremacy.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The United Press college football ratings (first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Michigan (18) (4-0)	315
2. Maryland (8) (5-0)	289

Murder in Haiti
by John W. Vandercook

THE STORY: Bertrand Lynch, British detective, has just told his partner, Robert Deane, an American, that he was the one who threw a knife at Viggo Sand, the man who retained them. Lynch wanted to frighten Sand into revealing more about the purpose and destination of this Caribbean cruise that required bodyguards.

"The owner instruct you if you require it." By raising his crisp, flat voice, Lynch gave it added authority, almost a note of bullying. "You know Mr. Deane's and my function aboard here. To guard against sinister incidents. Such an incident has occurred tonight."

"You're an Englishman, aren't you?" The Irishman's thin red mouth was stiff with hatred.

"I am! And you, Captain, I take it, do not go ashore in British ports?"

After I repeated the substance of what Lily had told me, Lynch agreed the Braun affair needed looking into. He also agreed that we should make a pretense of searching for the mysterious knife thrower.

"As proof of our—er—devotion to duty, and for our own instruction, I think we should call on Captain Carey," he said.

Other than the most formal handshake on our coming aboard in New York, neither Lynch nor I had held any communication with him. He did not take his meals, or fraternize, with the passengers. The lowered, varnished door opened. Carey peered out and showed no immediate disposition to let us pass. He was tall, broad-shouldered and lean-hipped, a brunet Irishman with small, unfriendly black eyes, a perpetually blue jaw and black hair.

"We should like to have a talk with you, Captain," said Lynch briskly. "A matter of ship's business."

Carey moved aside. His cabin was large and businesslike. The lavish decorative fancies of the owner's and guests' sections of the ship did not reach here. There was a fixed table, tightly covered with a green cloth, in the middle of the stateroom. Captain Carey sat down at the head of it and with a sulky nod indicated we were to join him.

"I want to see your crew list, Captain," said Lynch.

"And by whose authority?" The black eyes which stared at us were hostile.

"I need none. Though I will have

In the center of each of Carey's cadaverous and sallow cheeks appeared a bright red patch.

"Or Irish, either?" Lynch snapped.

Like Wellington's remark about his Generals, Lynch may not have scared Carey, but he scared me. For a second I thought Carey would lunge across the table at his cool tormentor.

"What has happened?"

"There has been a knife throwing. Fortunately, a miss. I will not trouble you with details, Captain. At least until I have talked with Mr. Sand. The knife, when used as a throwing weapon, is generally associated with the Mediterranean races. Have you any Sicilians aboard? Spaniards? Marseillais?"

Carey got up, went to his desk, unlocked a drawer and took out a brown leather loose-leaf ledger. He shoved it, open, across the table to Lynch.

"See for yourself," he growled. "Twenty-two men, counting officers and the steward's crew. Eleven nationalities. Two Nansen passports. Three stateless. I know nothing bad of any of 'em. Nor nothing good."

If the crew list—and the trim and shipshape cabins—were fair indications, this dark man at whose criminal record Lynch had so broadly hinted, was good at his job.

"Very precise, Captain. Very precise," said Lynch approvingly. "You will be good enough to furnish me with a copy of this list. I note a number of your men have been with you for some time. How long have you been with the Victoria, Carey?"

"Nine years."

"As Captain?"

"As Captain."

That, I reckoned, would place the acquisition of Carey by the professionally neutral millionaire right smack in the middle of the Second World War.

"And Dr. Lund? I do not see his name here?"

"It's Sand's fancy to count Lund as a passenger. If he pays him, as I have no doubt, he attends to it himself. I have naught to do with it. Dr. Persen before him was the same."

"Dr. Lund joined recently?"

Carey doubly nodded. "He did. Dr. Persen was took sick all of a sudden. In Bremen. And this Lund chap just happened to be on hand."

Lynch put a firm forefinger at a name in the book before him and ran it across the page. "This Heitzig. Wilhelm Heitzig. Born Hamburg. Age 32. Signed on, I observe, the same year you did, Captain. A German. During the war. A deserter?"

"That you will have to ask him."

"I see," Lynch persisted. "Heitzig is carried on your payroll as a 'watchman.' On a yacht, a vessel of this size, isn't it more customary to assign the duty of the night patrol to ordinary seamen in rotation?"

"Sand, Mister, is not a usual man. Nor does he have usual ways." Carey cut his locuquacity short. "It's no business of mine. Nor yours."

Of Murdering Wife

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — Eldon Marshall, 25, Centralia, will go on trial Nov. 3 for the murder of his wife. Marshall pleaded innocent to the charge Monday when arraigned in Marion County Circuit Court here. A Marion County grand jury indicted Marshall Sept. 26th for the shotgun slaying of his wife, Virginia, 26.

Marshall is being held in jail at Salem in lieu of bond.

Supreme Court
Accepts Appeal
By 14 Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, already facing several Communist issues this year, has agreed to tackle another one—the Smith Act convictions of 14 California Communist leaders.

This is the first time the high court has agreed to pass on a federal conviction for conspiring to advocate revolution since it upheld the constitutionality of the Smith Act.

Since then some 100 first and second-string Communists have asked the court to review their convictions under the act for conspiring to overthrow the government by force. But all have failed. The high court first passed on the law in 1951 when it affirmed the convictions of the nation's top 11 Communist officials. The court's opinion was 6-2.

The justices gave no reason for accepting the California Communists' appeal.

The Romance languages include French, Italian, Portuguese, Provençal, Romanian and Spanish.
